

John Easley
Chief Advancement Officer
The Cleveland Museum of Art

John Easley, Chief Advancement Officer, The Cleveland Museum of Art, is a 40-year veteran development and marketing executive with cultural organizations. He joined the museum in April 2017.

Most recently he served as Vice President and Chief Philanthropy Officer of the St. Louis Symphony. Easley served as President/CEO of the Museum of New Mexico Foundation, Santa Fe. He led marketing, development and external affairs programs for the Minneapolis Institute of Arts, the Saint Louis Art Museum and the Nelson-Atkins Museum of Art, Kansas City.

He has directed multi-faceted capital and endowment campaigns that have raised more than $800 million during the course of his career.

Easley has also served cultural and educational organizations as an independent consultant, and holds a bachelor's degree in journalism from the William Allen White School of Journalism at the University of Kansas.