

A Passion for Fundraising: Meet Our New Director of Development

Please join us in welcoming Allison Chance as the High's new Director of Development. Allison will work closely with Director Rand Suffolk, the board of directors, and Museum staff to build our donor base, enhance donor cultivation and stewardship, and develop thoughtful fundraising strategy.

Allison has represented the Memphis Brooks Museum of Art, The Corcoran Gallery of Art, The Phillips Collection, and most recently the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, DC, where she managed capital campaign fundraising strategies for several large markets on the East Coast.
